Texas-based manufacturer of environmentally friendly composite materials receives recognition from U.S. General Services Administration

(Muenster, TX – April 2, 2013) - Rumber Materials LLC has earned a prestigious Evergreen Award from the U.S. General Services Administration (GSA), in recognition of their support of the federal government's environmental initiatives. Rumber Materials manufactures a variety of strong and highly durable products from 100% recycled tire rubber and plastics.

Based in Muenster, Texas, Rumber Materials has manufactured environmentally friendly composite building materials from recycled rubber and plastic for over 20 years. The company name is a combination of the words "rubber" and "lumber." The environmentally friendly products are stronger and more durable than wood, making them well suited for a variety of industrial, military and agricultural applications. Rumber products are currently used in livestock equipment, oil and gas, military, aviation and marine applications. Most impressive of all, the only by-product from the production of the materials is steam. to continuing that tradition."

The GSA's Evergreen Award Program was developed in order to recognize companies that support the federal government's environmental initiatives. The award recognizes business partners that help the federal government identify environmentally-friendly products for their scheduled acquisitions. A select number of companies earn the Evergreen Award each year in the categories of Furniture, Furnishings, Technologies and Electronics, Sports and Recreation, and Small Business. Rumber Materials has been awarded the 2012 Evergreen Award in the sports and recreation category.

"We're honored to be recognized by the GSA with this award," said Brian Adams, CEO of Rumber Materials. "Rumber Materials has been proud to provide durable, environmentally-friendly materials for the military, agricultural, aviation and other industries for over 20 years. And we look forward to continuing that tradition."

About Rumber:

Rumber Materials LLC manufactures composite material boards, sheets and molded products from 100% recycled tire rubber and plastics through a patented process. These environmentally friendly products are extremely durable and impervious to fluids, mud, oil, and UV rays, making them exceptional replacements for wood and plastics in a variety of applications, including oil and gas, agriculture, industrial and military applications, with features which clearly out-perform other materials, resulting in less down-time, fewer replacement cost and extended product life.
